UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Virginia Tech Grant
Marketing Live Soft Shells in Europe
May 2016

Mike: The money for the grant did not come through. Some Virginia companies are still interested in getting into the European market. VDACS consultants will look into other options in the future.

Dan: There was too small of a narrative, they wanted more cooperation with other states before that would approve the grant money. We can retry next year if we want.

VA Seafood Legislative Week 2017
January 16-20, 2017

Mike: Dylan and I were there Monday-Thursday working a booth in the General Assembly handing out brochures, recipes, and other educational materials. We also got to talk with many legislators throughout the week. J.C. and some other watermen came to help set up and hand out tickets for the luncheon on Monday. On Wednesday we hosted the Seafood Luncheon for the legislator's offices. We served steamed scallops, green beans, and clam chowder. The catering and steamer trailer was provided by Arnest Seafood. Overall it was very successful serving about 500 lunches including the Governor and First Lady.

J.C.: It was a great opportunity for the watermen to get to meet the legislators and let them see what we do. Lee Arnest did a great job with the catering and steaming the meals was a lot more efficient than frying.

VA Seafood Outbound Mission to Shanghai/ Beijing, China
